Mark Horton managed this project from “cradle to grave” for Hiram College. The result is a modern student sports center with a cardio theater, running tracks, field house, meeting spaces, and competition floors. This facility rings in a new era for Hiram College.

“Mark Horton was engaged by Hiram College to assist us with our Coleman Sports Recreation and Fitness Center. This is the largest project we’ve done at Hiram in recent memory. Mark has done a superb job for us. The project is on time, on budget, and with the kind of quality that we were anticipating. Hiring Mark was one of the best decisions we made in this project.”
